"PRAYERS AND POLITICS."

This heading is borrowed from the Advertiser, which used it to set off a diatribe against certain opposition politicians who "embraced the opportunity" to address electors of Molokai, collected mostly by a Sunday School convention. It is used by us to fix the attention of the public on the fact that Hon. J. L. Kaulukou, Sheriff of Hawaii, inflicted a stump speech of two hours and a half upon the worshippers at the Roman Catholic Cathedral yesterday. From the report of our contemporary, the harangue is seen to be remarkable for what it did not contain. There is not a word about the atrocious plot to foist a national lottery scheme upon the kingdom; about the attempt to force an opium traffic upon the country, for the benefit of a ring; about the scheme to saddle the nation with the crushing burden of a standing army and navy, with no conceivable object but to intimidate the people, nor about the despicable attempt to institute a despotic censorship of the press, for gagging public opinion. These measures, together with a slavish devotion to the Government, in defense of the most dubious acts of the past and in support of the most objectionable items of policy for the future, throughout the late session, constitute the legislative record of the Hon. J. L. Kaulukou, by virtue of which he received the reward of the shrievalty of Hawaii. Surely that gentleman could not have spoken for two hours and a half without making some attempt at justification of his legislative course; yet, if not, the Government journalists find it expedient to suppress his utterances on that score. Sheriff Kaulukou is a specimen of the statesmen the Government party have to ask the confidence of the Hawaiian electorate. He is a prominent representative of the reactionary party of Hawaii, who do not scruple to promote the most pernicious measures, and even to foment race discord within this peaceful realm, in order to serve their own wretched ambitions. The most characteristic passage reported of his Sunday speech was not unjustly regarded as a combination of the buncombe and slander forming the stock-in-trade of the reactionists, viz., "The Opposition was arrayed against the King and unfriendly to the native people." If the Government is defeated in the coming elections, it will be by the force of a public opinion convinced that the permanence of the throne, the independence of the kingdom and the welfare of the native race will all be promoted by having a new set of men to advise His Majesty in affairs. Otherwise, we should desire to see no change.

Mr. J. O. Carter and Mr. Henry Waterhouse have consented to stand as independent candidates for the representation of Honolulu in the Legislative Assembly.

MORE LIGHT WANTED.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Really, I am under great and lasting obligation to "C. E. G." for his kind and labored attempt to straighten my crooked logic. But after all I am about as blind as I was before—can't see a bit better. Unfortunately I am not one of those "shrewder and better-informed readers" who "may be able to realize that in admitting that the Church of England is the Church of England of the 9th century they are committing themselves to certain historical facts which are universally conceded." Can it be wondered at that my lack of shrewdness and deficiency of information should be unable to realize that by making the admission referred to I am committing myself to certain historical facts universally conceded, considering that I read the Advertiser, and the Advertiser of the 6th instant says that "several statements" (C. E. G.'s "historical facts"), "are by no means well settled facts of history." To construe a simple admission into a universally conceded historical fact is another feat of logic almost as great as the first, and leaves Whateley and Mill away behind. Ah, yes, I now begin to take in the idea. "The logical proof should be seen in the fact that if the Church of England was in the vigor of her strength, and capable of holding and leasing property in the 9th century, she certainly had a history and an identity reaching further back." I understand that. The Church could not have held property before she existed; but her previous existence might have been brief. It is no proof that she had existed nine hundred years, nor even nine years. If in 1836 I was able in my own name and of my own right to hold and lease property and transact business, that proves me more than fifty years old, but does not prove that I was born fifty years prior to 1836, unless it can be shown that I could not have held property, etc., until I had been fifty years in the world. To prove that the Church of England "had a history and an identity reaching further back" than the 9th century is no proof that she is "in direct lineal descent from Apostolic times." It so, I CAN'T SEE.
